Why We Recommend Petrus

A note from Clean Water Help

Petrus is not a typical scholarship student. He already has a degree, a government career and a leadership role in his church. What he is asking for is help with the next step.

He works where community disputes get settled

As a senior inspector of village courts, Petrus oversees the local courts that settle disputes in rural communities across the Eastern Highlands. Community water projects depend on neighbors reaching agreements and keeping them, and that is the system he already works in.

Where we see him going

Petrus has asked to join our mentorship program. We want to help him shape his next degree around the work his community needs most, so that his experience in government and his training with Oxfam lead to projects like clean water in Korepa.

> "I want to contribute to the progress and development of society and the country as a whole."
